

PUBLIC PROPERTY

Making An Impact

Attorneys in the Government Services and Finance Department offer a full range of legal services to both private and public-sector clients whose dealings involve public property. These services include counsel in federal, state and local government-related land matters.

We have experience in transactions that involve complex public purchasing regulations and land-use provisions. Our multidisciplinary team advises on a wide variety of issues, including land acquisition, public construction, public-private partnerships, land management, lease agreements, liability coverage, insurance, public finance and land disposition.

We are known for our experience working with government entities and businesses seeking to develop public-private partnerships. Our attorneys keep up on the latest regulations and laws that govern these and other unique economic development endeavors.
