Barnes & Thornburg attorneys have decades of experience representing financial institutions, lenders and servicers in recovering credit and mortgage insurance.

Our attorneys have handled a number of high-value, high-profile matters involving mortgage insurance coverage on behalf of major originators and servicers for defaulted mortgage loans.

We have litigated and negotiated against virtually every mortgage insurer and have helped our clients secure favorable settlements and resolve litigation on claims that had previously been denied, rescinded or curtailed.

Our deep understanding of loan originations, underwriting, and servicing has helped us articulate to the courts the complexities associated with our clients' core business.
