

Working with both public and private companies, Taylor Wirth offers sophisticated and practical guidance on securities regulation, capital formation, and corporate governance matters. Taylor is dedicated to helping clients navigate nearly every facet of their corporate and securities needs.

A trusted adviser, Taylor counsels public companies across a wide range of industries, including retail and consumer products, healthcare and real estate investment trusts (REIT).

Taylor has represented issuers in a variety of securities transactions, including initial public offerings, secondary public offerings, at-the-market (ATM) offerings and private investments in public equity (PIPEs), and in other strategic transactions, including mergers and acquisitions, divestitures, going private transactions and tender offers. He regularly advises clients on a wide range of corporate and securities matters, including public company disclosure, Section 16 and beneficial ownership issues, insider trading, executive compensation, and environmental, social and governance.

Taylor's private company work includes formation and business structuring, private offerings of securities, corporate governance matters, M&A and large internal corporate reorganizations involving dozens of subsidiaries.

In addition to his corporate and securities practice, Taylor regularly assists with pro bono work for nonprofit clients through all stages of development and in connection with transformative transactions. In recent years, Taylor has led multiple pro bono initiatives to success, with a particular focus on organizations that further diversity, equity and inclusion efforts.
