ITAR, as it is called, can be a daunting and complex regulation. Its regulations control the export and temporary import of defense related articles and services under the United States Munitions List (USML).

This 60-minute program conducted by the law firm of Barnes & Thornburg LLP will give you a better understanding of the ITAR regulations, what is covered, and whether your goods or services might fall under ITAR regulations.

- Learning Objectives: Upon completing this webinar, you will have learned:
- Regulations

- What is covered
 - Whether your goods, technical data, or services might fall under the U.S. Munitions List.
 - Licensing requirements
 - Deemed exports
