Life Sciences Lunch 2018 Public Policy Overview

Public policies are impacting the life sciences sector dynamically, with many changes at the state and federal levels targeting manufacturers. Please join us as we hear the latest on the 2018 session of the Indiana General Assembly and delve into current public policy issues for the medical device and biopharmaceutical sectors. This month's program will feature an Indiana legislative leader sharing thoughts on the current session and the direction state policymakers are heading in support of innovation. This will be followed by a moderated discussion featuring local industry leaders. This is a great time to reach out - please invite your legislators to attend with you!
