

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

Technological Concepts And Evidence In Arbitration: How To Present A Compelling Case.

DATE

April 11, 2019

On April 11, Felicia Boyd of the Minneapolis office spoke during the ABA Section of Dispute Resolution 21st Annual Spring Conference in Minneapolis on “Technological Concepts and Evidence in Arbitration: How to Present a Compelling Case.” The presentation, which David Bartholomew of the Indianapolis office helped put together, demonstrated the power of technology in the arbitration context including written submissions, graphics, animation and electronic evidence and presentation management.

RELATED OFFICES

Minneapolis

P 612-333-2111

F 612-333-6798

sarah.evenson@btlaw.com