Scott Hulsey and Adetayo Osuntogun spoke at the Cyprus Current Affairs Forum at the St. Raphael Resort in Limassol, Cyprus. The event was designed to promote better understanding of recent U.S., European Union and United Kingdom sanctions activity on banks and businesses in Cyprus. Scott and Tayo provided invaluable insights into the far-reaching implications of U.S. sanctions on Russia and how they affect individuals and businesses in Cyprus. Speakers included the minister of justice and public order of the Republic of Cyprus, a former senior United States State Department official, the vice-chair of the Cyprus Securities and Exchange Commission, the chair of the House Standing Committee on Foreign and European Affairs and former Cyprus minister of finance and the 2022 chair of the Bar Council of England and Wales.
