

Having a diverse background in corporate law, Dominique Gallacher primarily assists clients with ongoing business operations. She advises fund client and private companies on a variety of contractual matters relating to operational agreements and investments.

Dominique is skilled at evaluating the details as well as stepping back to consider the big picture. With more than 18 years in practice and a breadth of experience, she represents hedge funds, funds, investment banks, and other financial institutions. She provides tailored and pragmatic guidance on a range of agreements that directly impact her clients' operations and investments.

Her practice is focused on drafting, reviewing and negotiating contracts crucial to her clients' businesses, including non-disclosure and confidentiality agreements, consulting agreements, engagement letters, vendor agreements, data purchase agreements, software licenses and other operations agreements.

Dominique has also handled and advised on a wide variety of transactional matters, ranging from lending transaction, equity investments, and mergers and acquisitions.

Professional and Community Involvement

Volunteer, Habitat for Humanity

Volunteer, Got Soup

Dominique F. Gallacher

Of Counsel

390 Madison Avenue
12th Floor
New York, NY 10017-2509

P 646-746-2012
F 646-746-2001
DGallacher@btlaw.com

EDUCATION

Fordham University School of Law,
(J.D.), staff member of Fordham Law
Review, 2000

Smith College, (A.B.), 1993

BAR ADMISSIONS

New York

Connecticut

LANGUAGES

English

PRACTICES

Commercial Contracts and Transactions

Corporate

Nondisclosure Agreements

Private Funds and Asset Management