Watch On Demand

The rapidly evolving COVID-19 pandemic is impacting employers across the nation and causing a tangle of new stresses and concerns. But are all employees really equal in the eyes of the law? In this webinar, we will examine:

- Immigration requirements and options for employers with foreign national employees who are working remotely
- Employers anticipating across-the-board wage reductions, temporary furloughs, or terminations of foreign national employees. This will include discussion of options available to affected immigrant workers.

- Employers seeking to onboard new hires

We will wrap up by examining immigration-related concerns for businesses and individuals seeking federally backed financial assistance due to the pandemic.
