

As outside general counsel, David Flanigan represents public and private growing, profitable businesses who rely upon him for practical advice and his natural ability to adapt to the specific needs of their teams and organizations. David provides the legal counsel, creativity and knowledge needed to negotiate and close the complex transactions that permeate today's global business environment.

Over the past few years, David has been involved in deals that ranged in value from a few million dollars to over $2 billion. He negotiates and closes mergers, acquisitions, leveraged recapitalizations and myriad sales transactions, as well as venture capital and private equity financings and other capital raising agreements and syndicated financings.

In addition to his M&A work, David also advises clients on the formation of legal entities such as limited liability companies, corporations, strategic partnerships, joint ventures and the like. Moreover, he provides broad legal representation to his clients regarding tax, securities, intellectual property, contract review and incentive compensation initiatives.

David is dedicated to building lasting relationships with those he serves. Among David's clients are fast-growth, emerging and middle market companies, including a global industry leader in the manufacture and distribution of construction equipment; a leading global payment solutions provider in the healthcare industry; one of the world's largest carpet, rug and flooring products manufacturers; a rapidly expanding physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech language pathology and athletic training business with points of service across the United States; and a growing environmental consulting firm with offices nationwide.

David helps large and small businesses alike make their objectives a reality – whether that means closing a complex multinational transaction, realizing a critical private equity investment, or ultimately positioning and selling the business. David's clients are not only based in the U.S., but also in countries such as Korea, Singapore, Hong Kong, the United Kingdom, and Australia. David is at his best when he is helping clients secure their short-term growth goals and long-term vision for the future in
