Watch On Demand

During the campaign, now President-elect Joe Biden included several key labor and employment measures in his platform, including encouraging unionization and collective bargaining and ensuring that workers are treated with dignity and receive the pay, benefits, and workplace protections they deserve.

Employers should start preparing now for potential changes that will impact their business. Please join our experienced team to help guide you through these topics and what to expect:

- NLRB and Traditional Labor Matters
- EEOC, OSHA and Employment Law
- Immigration
- Preview of Potential Key Labor Appointment
