Barnes & Thornburg is the Premier Sponsor of the 2024 Venture Debt Conference in New York City. Troy Zander and Warren Biro will each host panel discussions at the conference.

Troy's panel, "Venture Debt in the Post-SVB Era," will discuss the circumstances that led to the fall of SVB, and the challenges and opportunities facing the venture debt landscape today.

Warren's roundtable discussion, "Cross-Border Venture Debt Deals – Israel, UK, Canada, the EU and Beyond," will address international venture debt considerations, cross-border deals, and unexpected benefits of cross-border venture debt deals.

The Venture Debt Conference offers a unique opportunity for networking and discussion of non-dilutive loan strategies for venture capital-backed and emerging growth companies. Hosted by DealFlow Events, this full-day forum addresses the growing interest in using venture debt to complement venture capital and to discuss alternative financing with company executives unfamiliar with these financing strategies.
