Immigration Compliance Program Training

DATE

September 26, 2019

The Trump administration's immigration focus places employers in the crosshairs. Immigration and Custom Enforcement (ICE) dramatically increased the number of I-9 audits and worksite investigations – from 402 in 2007 to more than 5,000 last year. In March 2019, the administration restarted the Social Security Administration's "no-match" notice process, which has immigration compliance ramifications for employers. In May 2019, ICE announced a new program deputizing local law enforcement officers to help enforce immigration laws.

Don't wait for ICE to come knocking to address these risks. Developing a robust Immigration Compliance Program helps reduce the risks associated with ICE's stepped-up worksite enforcement.

This interactive and cost-effective workshop will help you do just that! During this workshop, we will provide your entire human resource team with step-by-step instructions for developing an Immigration Compliance Program, including:

- Completing I-9s
- Using E-Verify
- Responding to "no match" notices
- Auditing and correcting existing I-9s
- Responding to an ICE audit or raid
