

Corporate law paralegal Lili Skrumbis offers more than two decades of experience in supporting a wide range of legal matters. Her dedication to clients and colleagues is manifest in her unwavering drive to provide consistently outstanding work product and service to everyone around her.

Lili has assisted corporate tax, real estate and entertainment departments with general corporate and transactional needs. She primarily focuses on business entity and real estate transactions, nonprofit and for-profit entity matters, and Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) and due diligence matters.

Lili is involved in a broad array of transactional endeavors. Her experience ranges from business entity formation, management, dissolution and restructuring to management of various business and commercial real estate transactions, and preparation and submission of franchise registration, amendment and exemption filings.

Moreover, Lili also develops business organizational structures and project oversight, maintenance and management systems. Her years of experience give her insight into effective processes and methods of resolution as they relate to corporate and real estate matters.

Lili is valued for her proven organizational abilities, strong written and oral communication skills, and creativity in delivering professional legal support for myriad transactional law matters. She is a team player who is able to fill a unique role in the corporate and real estate transactional arena.

Prior to joining Barnes & Thornburg, Lili worked as a corporate transactional paralegal for the Los Angeles office of Greenberg Traurig, LLP.
